At the home of Mrs. James A. Fee yesterday afternoon the second of two studies of "Industrialism" was held. At a previous meeting, the subject "Capitalism" had afforded an interesting program and this was supplemented yesterday by a discussion of "Labor." The program was opened by a paper on "Labor vs. Capital; Study of Wage-Earning Man, Woman and Child," by Mrs. E. B. Aldrich. Mrs. G. M. Rice gave a very interesting reading of "Comrade Yvette," by Edwards. Mrs. James Johns, Jr., presented the work of Meunier, the sculptor of the proletariat and was followed by Mrs. Johns, Sr., who read a paper on "Literature That Deals with Social and Industrial Problems" and gave a reading from "Pay Envelope." A discussion of the same question was led by Mrs. Nesmith Ankeny and Mrs. H. H. Hattery. Mrs. C. F. Coleworthy read a selection from "The Melting Pot" and Mrs. A.

C. Hampton read bills on the minimum wage and mothers' pension and presented several points in connection with each. A discussion, led by Mrs. A. J. McAllister and Mrs. C. S. Jerald, was participated in by all of the members.

During the program Mrs. J. R. Dickson favored the members with a group of songs and refreshments were served during the social hour.

Misses Pauline Myrick and Rosa Rothrock of Athena, have been visiting friends in this city during the week.

Miss Ruth Krebs of Milton has been a guest of friends in the city during the week.

Mr. and Mrs. S. B. Baldwin of Independence, Oregon, are visiting at the home of their daughter, Mrs. R. H. Wilcox.

Mr. and Mrs. V. S. Larkins of Nolin passed through Pendleton today enroute to Oregon City. Mrs. Larkins taught at Nolin for awhile this year.

The most disagreeable relation one can have is a carb-uncle.

Wisdom often amounts to this: People know a lot of things that are really not worth knowing.
